Developed Term 4 2005

Having Fun : Respect : Confidence :
Responsibility : Safe and Secure Environment
Learning beyond the school is a valued part of our curriculum.

Such learning activities
- engage and stimulate students in different ways
- provide experiences they may not otherwise have
- accommodate a range of learning styles
- support the social development of students
- enable relevant and deeper study of a topic

UNDERLYING PRINCIPLES

- All students will have a range of learning beyond the school activities as part of their educational experience at Ardtornish Primary School

- Whilst there is an expectation that all students will have the opportunity to participate on several camps over the course of their primary years, it is not an expectation that there will be a camp for all students each year.

- Costs should be based on a concept of value for money.
